SECY. LANSING DECLARES U. S. LEAGUE PLANS WERE NEVER PRESENTED TO A FULL CONFERENCE

Foreign Relations Committee Informed American Plan was Never Pressed.

Lansing Says United States was
Not Aware of Japan's Secret
Treaty When Pact was Made

Admits Orders Issued not to Transmit Confidential Minutes to French Senate.

By Associated Press
Washington, August 6.—Secretary Lansing told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee today that the American plan for a league of nations was not pressed at Versailles, and never was presented to the full peace conference.

The Secretary, appearing at a public meeting of the committee, said he did not know whether a copy of the American draft still was in existence.

He presumed, he said, that the draft was made by President Wilson and added that a copy might still be in the President's possession.

Discussing the Shantung provision of the treaty, Secretary Lansing said the Lansing-Ishii agreement, made to obtain reaffirmation by Japan of the open door policy in China, was entered into by the American government without knowledge of the secret treaty between Japan and the Allies for a transfer of German concessions in Shantung to Japan.

Mr. Lansing said it was true that President Wilson had cabled to the peace conference committee requesting that the confidential minutes of the proceedings of the commission of the league of nations be not furnished to the French Senate.

COUNTER CLAIMS ARE RECEIVED BY THE ALLIES

Paris, August 6.—The Austrian counter proposals were handed to the allied mission at St. Germain at noon today. The counter proposals were brought at once to Paris and delivered to the supreme council of the peace conference.

George Burgess, the groom; Miss Milly K. Schaefer, the bride; Miss Doris Schob, bridesmaid, and Commander Miller. Behind Burgess is the best man.

It was heavenly," says the bride, describing the first marriage ever conducted under similar conditions. It took place recently over Hazelhurst field during the New York police field day. Lieut.

George Burgess was the groom and Miss Milly K. Schaefer the bride. They went up in one airplane. The chaplain ascended in a second plane. While the planes soared a mile above the ground the ceremony was conducted by wireless. The bridesmaid, on the ground below, heard the words by wireless phone, too. The best man piloted the chaplain's plane during the wedding.

RADICAL VIEWS OF LABOR CHIEFS

By Associated Press

Washington, August 6.—Some sharp views of leaders of organized labor on economic problems were developed at the opening of hearings before the House Inter-State Commerce Committee on labor's plan for reorganization of the railroads.

Warren S. Stone, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers said labor might advocate a firing squad for profiteers and declar-time in which all unions representing 2,000,000 employees have acted as a unit.

Mr. Hines said today he had not had time to analyze the communication but it seemed to be a formal presentation of wage demands already made public.

ed that unless Congress found a solution of high cost of living problems American would see "its very worst period."

"The people are not going to starve," said he. "They are going to die fighting."

He added that the time would come when the prices would be fixed by the government.

Frank Morrison, Secretary of the American Federation of Labor, told the committee that if labor's plans for public ownership and co-operative operation of the railroads prove successful, they proposed to have it applied to other industries.

MAY ORGANIZE U. S. STEEL CO.

DISTRICT ATTORNEYS GET ORDERS TO PROCEED

By Associated Press

Washington, August 6.—All district attorneys in the U. S. were ordered today by Attorney General Palmer to proceed immediately in the prosecution of all persons guilty of hoarding foodstuffs and to libel the foodstuffs for condemnation.

"This is the most important business before the country today," Mr. Palmer said. "I propose to have the law enforcement machinery of the government sidetrack everything else for this job."

"Conditions" said Mr. Palmer, "require a country-wide campaign against hoarder and profiteers and desire the department of justice to use every legal means available to put an end to these activities."

GREAT WALK-OUT OF RAILROADERS GROWING HOURLY

Face Prosecution if They Tie
Up Mails.

Railroads May Soon Suspend Operation.

By Associated Press

Chicago, August 6.—President Hawver, of the Chicago Council of Federation of Railway Shopmen's Union, declared 275,000 of his organization have obeyed the strike order issued last Friday in defiance of the International Board of the union, and the number of idle men is growing hourly.

He said every railroad in the middle west and south has been crippled. He predicted freight and a large part of the passenger service will be tied up within a week in nearly every section of the country.

United States attorneys said today that the striking shopmen face prosecution under federal laws if they interfere with transportation of mail.

Columbus, O., August 6.—Drastic action by County Prosecuting Attorney Schlessinger, in securing the appointment of a receiver for more than 150,000 pounds of pork held in cold storage here more than six months by a local packing concern it is expected will be ordered followed in other cities as result of a conference in progress between Governor Cox, Attorney General Price and other state officials.

The county prosecutor presented a petition in the County Court today asking for an injunction against the Columbus Packing Company and the Fairmount Creamery Company to prevent them from disposing of 151,651 pounds of pork which it is alleged the packing company has held in the cold storage plant of the creamery company for more than the six months time limit provided by the new Ohio cold storage law.

Judge Duncan immediately granted the injunction and appointed a local meat dealer receiver for the pork, which will be sold at public auction.

WILSON WILL ASK REMEDY

By Associated Press

Washington, August 6.—President Wilson will address Congress in person Friday to make recommendations for legislation designed to aid in reducing the cost of living. This was announced officially today.

AGENTS ACTIVE

By Associated Press

Washington, August 6.—Agents of the Department of Justice throughout the country already were at work to carry out the order of the Attorney General, issued yesterday, that profiteers and hoarders of food and other necessities be tracked down and prosecuted under the Lever food control act.

Recommendations for additional legislation necessary to effect a reduction in the cost of living formulated by the special sub-committee of the cabinet were in President Wilson's hands, and he is expected to make these recommendations the subject of an early message to Congress.

The country today faced the definite promise of some cut in bread prices following announcement yesterday by Director Barnes of the grain corporation that an immediate effort would be made to put on sale in every community where prices are found improperly high, standard export flour at $10 a barrel.

The ruling price during the last four months, he said, has been at least one dollar above that figure.

The announcement was made that the grain corporation had decided to maintain the government guarantee on wheat. The prospective world wheat supply, Mr. Barnes said, dictated this action as a "reserve protection against a higher price later."

NORTHERN OHIO SWEEPED BY STORMS

Four Killed and Many Seriously Injured in Heavy Electrical and Wind Storm.

Damage to Crops and Other Property is Estimated at Nearly $2,500,000.

By Associated Press

Cleveland, August 6.—Four persons known to be dead, probably six seriously wounded, property and crop damage estimated at more than two million dollars and two hundred families driven from their homes was the toll early today of the electrical storm which swept northern Ohio late yesterday.

Three of the dead occurred in Youngstown where two persons were killed by lightning and another electrocuted by a live wire.

At Bellevue a boy was drowned. In Tiffin, more than 200 homes in the Rock Creek basin were flooded and abandoned.

Ashland county, with an estimated damage of $1,000,000, suffered the greatest loss. Scores of farmers lost live stock, wheat and oats in the fields, while corn was flattened out and other damage done to orchards and vineyards.

Destruction of barns by lightning, most of which were filled with new crops, was reported from many points.

The storm, with one exception, was the heaviest ever recorded here, weather bureau officials declare, and it may be several days before the full extent of the ruin can be estimated.

"CRIP" IS DEAD

"Crip," everybody's dog and nobody's in particular, is dead.

"Crip," so named because of a missing hind leg, for the past few years has been a familiar figure on the streets, and has been befriended by many who took pity on him and saw that he was fed and, in a manner, cared for.

Always ready to follow anyone who offered a kind word, "Crip" made a host of friends.

But he was a tramp dog, and would rather lay about in the shade in summer, and about some warm building in the winter, than to have a regular home.

It was while curled up asleep under an automobile that "Crip" met his death. The owner of the car, not aware of the dog's presence, started the machine and a moment later "Crip" was breathing his last.

The memorial will go to the county selling the largest percentage of its 1919 War Savings quota during the months of June, July and August.

JAPAN WILL RESTORE KIAO CHOW TO CHINA, SAYS JAP OFFICIAL*SONG OF HATE IS CARRIED BY GERMAN PAPER

Mexico City, July 8.—(By Mail)—A

"Catechism of Hate" was printed in the Deutsche Zeitung Von Mexico and revenge was threatened in an article accompanying it on the day when the delegates of the German Republic signed the peace treaty at Versailles. The paper printed in German, is generally believed to voice the opinions of the Pan-German, irreconcilable element of the German colony in Japan. Expressing his personal opinion, he said he believed Japan has firmly decided to restore to China her sovereignty over the leased territory of Kiao Chow. The territory was leased to Germany by China under pressure in 1908 for ninety-nine years. China repudiated the lease on her entrance into the war.

Mexico. Translations in part of the article follow:

"The day of revenge of the German people is not far off. We shall do good to practice patience until the day of revenge has arrived. Revenge must be coldly consummated. In order to prepare ourselves quietly for it, we need a 'Catechism of Hatred.' The 'twelve commandments' of the catechism summarize in brief form many of the protests which have been heard from German sources since the terms of the Peace Treaty became known. They deny that Germany was right in invading Belgium, attacking England for blockade of Germany, aver that Germany's armies were never defeated and declare that German honor is insulted by making Germans sign admission of their guilt.

SEAS OF BOILING MUD RUSH FORTH KILLING HOSTS

Vivid Word Picture of Volcano Catastrophe in Java.

Total Loss of Life Placed at 50,000.

(By Associated Press)

Singapore, June 21, via Tokio, July 2.—(By Mail)—The awful scenes which prevailed when the volcano of Kalut in Java burst into eruption on May 20, destroyed 26 villages and caused a loss of life estimated by some at 50,000, are vividly described by Miss E. W. Craven who has arrived here from Sourabaya.

A river of boiling mud and lava which overwhelmed the village of Blitar where Miss Craven was staying, she says, was ten miles wide and four feet deep.

The first symptoms of the coming eruption, Miss Craven said, were sounds like thunder and vivid flashes in the sky. Enormous boulders were flung from the volcano into the low lands around it for immense distances. There was pitchy darkness owing to a rain of ashes.

Then came warning to the occupants of the hotel at Blitar that the river of lava and mud was approaching. "We were almost beside ourselves as to what to do to avoid a hideous end," she said. Twenty-four of those staying at the hotel escaped death in the boiling mud by fleeing aboard a motor car driven by the wife of the Assistant Resident Commissioner.

According to Miss Craven the river of mud ran for three hours and wrought fearful damage to life and property. It covered the railway station, buried the locomotives and cars and destroyed virtually every house in Blitar, Wlingi and Srengat.

A Mr. Boekhout managed to rescue his wife and some of his children, but owing to the velocity of the mud river was unable to save two of his little ones who perished before his eyes. One European, while in bed in his house, was carried away and deposited miles distant.

A Sourabaya paper which places the total loss of life at 50,000 says that 15 Europeans perished, and that after the volcano subsided the arms and legs of the victims were seen protruding through the mud all over Kediri district, in the vicinity of Kalut. Many thousands of persons are reported missing.

It is learned that three lava streams flowed from the volcano all taking the same course as in the eruption of 1901. One of these destroyed Blitar.

Government geologists who ascend to the crater of Kalut after the eruption found it empty.

The Dutch Governor of the devastated district reported that 5,100 persons were killed in the eruption of Kalut.

The Railroads

The demand of the railroad employees' organizations that the railroads of the country be not turned back to private control, and that they pass, permanently, into the control of the people is amazing and yet is not surprising, in view of the aggressive stand which the railroad brotherhoods have assumed.

Government control is not asked. In fact, it seems that all the brotherhoods want the government to do is to settle with the railroad owners, for every dollar honestly invested in railroad properties, buy out the private owners and then turn the railroads over to a "tripartite" control, a control in which the government will exercise only one-third and the employees and operatives two-thirds.

That does not seem a very clear cut, unhampered control by the people. The proposal seems rather to suggest payment by the whole people for the property taken from private owner's and control by two classes of the people, a very small percentage, large as the two classes are, of all the people of the nation.

The proposal does not bear evidence on its face of having that element of fairness which will command it to the favor of the American people.

Control of the railroads by the government has resulted in a disarrangement of traffic accommodations which is menacing and hampering commerce in all lines. It has proven anything else but satisfactory, save only in direct war work, and business men generally the country over have been anxious for a return to private control or some control which would better the service.

In view of those conditions any proposal to continue must present features appealing to the public generally as promising to better conditions rather than promising continuation of an unsatisfactory control for the exclusive benefit of one or two classes.

Try All of Them

It would be decidedly premature to predict a wide range of price tumbling in the foodstuff markets, it would be hasty also to predict even a very marked decline in the price of any of the staple foodstuffs, because pork, corn and cotton prices registered a decline on the Chicago market.

Whether those price declines are an indication that profiteers are and have been wholly responsible for the prevailing high prices of foodstuffs and see, in the several state and national investigations, an approaching danger which has brought about a reformation—a conclusion to "ease up a bit" or whether it is but a part of the propaganda of a powerful organization launched with a view to easing the public mind so that the profiteering may continue, no one—"on the outside"—is able to state with any degree of certainty.

There is this though, encouragement, to be gathered from the price decline in Chicago, whatever may be the motive or the cause and that is that some results are coming quickly upon the inauguration of a real movement to better conditions.

It is not likely, in our determination to better conditions, that we will find all the trouble located in one place.

The Other Thousands

Hundreds of thousands of aliens, friendly and enemy, have departed from America since the end of the world war.

America is well rid of many thousands, who are now and always will remain, in the fullest meaning of the word, undesirables. They are the individuals who are opposed to the government of the United States, in war or in peace. They are and have been hostile to the government not because of allegiance to any other government but because they are opposed to all government.

That type is really more of a menace than the enemy aliens, vicious as they were during the war. That brood we are well rid of for all time.

The exodus, however, of thousands of friendly and industrious foreigners who, appreciating the blessings of free America, loyally supported, in war and peace, the nation which has given them their opportunity but who with their accumulated wealth, some of it modest in amount and some of it considerable, are returning to their native land to aid friends and relatives in the work of beginning life anew—their loss will be felt. They will be missed from the ranks of the skilled mechanics, from the ranks of the common laborers and, more than a few, from the ranks of the more modest business men.

For those, among the departing ones, who have "stood by" loyally and appreciatively, with their shoulder to the wheel, seeing in America the hope of liberty and humanity, we all wish them success and will, on their return extend a welcome greeting.

THE DEATH OF SUMMER.

Come time to die, Miss Summer. She dies in glory, she With bat her beauty in the vales. Her music on the sea. She dies in glory, glory. In death's last moment great In pomp of purple story. In pride of golden state.

The grand march for her going. The muffled drums, the wall Of bugles of the golden hills and Down the crimson vale. She dies in glory, glory. No bended knee for her; But music in the magic woods Of life and dulcimer.

No shadow gray and solemn, but Forth she goes in light, Clad in the silver mists of seas that Sing of silver night. She dies in glory, glory. A last dance and a leap To fiddles of the mystic moon. And then the mystic sleep.

A thousand miles of splendor, and Then ten thousand more, Her pageants fill the valley and rim the rolling shore. She dies in glory, glory. Old gold and satin shod, Life in her ever whisper, Bloom in her every clod.

Come time to die, Miss Summer. One sweet smile is she As in her grass she dieth, and in Her weed and tree. She dies in glory, glory. On flame-bright folded wing Come down to depths of Enna To violet back in spring! —Folger McKinsey in the Baltimore Sun.

THE CHIEF BASES
OF PACIFIC FLEET

San Francisco, August 2—San Francisco, Puget Sound and Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, will be the three chief bases for the Pacific fleet according to naval officers here. The first two ports will hold most of the vessels that will be laid up with skeleton crews and the larger ships on active duty will chiefly center at Pearl Harbor, it is said.

San Pedro and San Diego will be base ports for many submarines, destroyers and chasers. More patrol vessels also will be available for Alaskan waters.

Just how the fleet will be divided

HOLY RELIC USED ON THOUSANDS TO AFFECT "CURES"

Holy relic used by Rev. John H. Southwick.

This holy relic, used by the Rev. John H. Southwick in his healing work during the solemn "Novena" held at St. Ann's church, New York, is said to have made many cures. It was brought from Rome twenty-five years ago and during the infantile paralysis epidemic was used with remarkable success. Ten thousand soldiers were blessed with the relic during the world war. It is applied to the affected portion of the sick person. It is expected fifty thousand persons will be blessed by it at St. Ann's this year. Forty thousand asked its healing powers last year.

among the waters of the Pacific was not known here and it was said division would not be decided until after the fleet had made its tour of coast ports and to Honolulu.

RANDOM NOTES

SOCIAL : PERSONAL MENTION : CLUBS

A romance which began in the perils of central Russia and continued in a flight through lines of revolting armies and brigand bands, culminated last week when Miss Muriel Heap, Y. W. C. A. secretary to Russia, was married in Paris to J. Brackett Lewis of Cleveland.

Miss Heap, who had been in charge of the Y. W. C. A. hostess house in Coblenz, went into central Russia to continue her work. Later Bolshevik authorities ordered workers out of the country and Miss Heap and Lewis became leaders in the long trip through revolting local governments and the lines of contending armies.

They reached Finland under great difficulties only to be turned back by German sympathizers and forced to make a new and perilous journey to the northern exit of Archangel. From there Miss Heap sailed for France and Lewis remained to finish his work with the allied forces. A week ago, when he reached France, he was met at Brest by Miss Heap.

The couple have not decided whether to return to Cleveland for their wedding journey or to make further explorations in Russia.—Ohio State Journal.

Browning Club members may confidently look forward to a club year of distinctive interest and pleasure judging by the year book now out and being put in the hands of club women.

The entire year will be devoted to the study of "France" her history, her literature, her art and as far as possible, her Household Economics and Social Philanthropy, a little latitude these departments.

The study of France is especially opportune following on the heels of the World War and no country offers more fascination in its realm of history and intrigue.

The 1919-1920 year book is attractively gotten up, with tan cover and lettered in brown. The programs have been most carefully compiled under the able supervision of the President, Mrs. Julia H. Dahl, who succeeds herself to the gratification of club women appreciative of her able regime, and executive committee, Mrs. Elizabeth Carpenter, Miss Minnie Light, Miss Gertrude Channel. The chairman and vice chairman of each department made out the programs for their departments and submitted them to the Executive Committee. The plan worked admirably and the programs throughout are exceptionally fine.

The History Department opens the year on October the fourteenth at the Federated club rooms.

The usual business was dispensed with and the evening turned over to sociability.

CORN REBOUNDS UPON ASSURANCE OF WHEAT PRICE

Market Leaps Up to Nearly
Ten Cents Above Tuesday

(By Associated Press)

Chicago, August 6.—An instantaneous upward jump of four and one half cents a bushel was the response of the corn market today to the announcement that the government would maintain the guaranteed $2.26 price of wheat.

The biggest rise of the corn market was in the principal trading delivery, December, which rose at once to $1.52.

New soaring of prices extended to other commodities than corn. Oats quickly shot skyward to 5 1/4 cents and lard to 65 cents a hundred weight.

The sharp advance of the market had not been tamed to any degree when the day ended. Last prices were strong at almost the top level, 7 and 9 cents up for corn. The advance in pork was $1.90 a barrel.

Above that hovered the threat of an even more serious labor situation, the demand of all the organized railroad industries that the profits of the business be overhauled to retire private capital and create a new private control. Reports began coming in today saying that unless railroad equipment can be kept in running order, mills, mines and factories will be threatened with closing. It was reported that there are more than 200,000 cars now out of commission.

Formal announcement was made tonight of the final tabulations in the referendum conducted among business men by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States on the question of government ownership of railroads. More than 99 per cent of the vote, the official announcement said, was against it.

A down pour of rain which began shortly after the starting of the band concert Tuesday evening put an end to the concert and drove the big crowd on the streets to shelter. The throng of auditors was one of the largest of the season and was not entirely disappointed, as several selections were given by the band, the last in rain, before the concert was called off.

DANGER OF BIG STRIKE IS GROWING

(By Associated Press)

Washington, August 5.—The threat of a railroad strike continues to spread throughout the country, despite the efforts of the organized labor heads to hold the men in check until authority and official strike votes can be taken.

Shopmen everywhere are throwing down their tools in premature strike, it was reported threatening national industry because, without them, the railroad equipment cannot be kept in usable order at the most necessary of all times crop moving season.

He distinguished himself in the Russo-Japanese war and successfully defended Lithuania against the Germans.

MEMOIR

Florence Carr Ireland was the daughter of Michael and Mary Lohr Carr. She was born near Jeffersonville, Ohio, July 10, 1859, and passed from this earthly life last Friday morning, aged just a little over 60 years.

She was the youngest of the family of 9 children named below: Mrs. Susan Carr Horney, Mrs. Mary Carr McMullan, Mrs. Clara Ervin, Samuel Carr, Mrs. Margaret Carr Thomas, Albert Carr, Mrs. M. S. Creamer, John Carr and Florence Carr Ireland.

All of these are deceased except one sister, Mrs. Clara Carr Ervin, and one brother, Samuel Carr, both of whom are present at this service today. There is a large circle of relatives in this family. When one of the youngest grand children was born, more than a score of years ago, Michael and Mary Lohr Carr had at that time 50 grand children and 35 great grand children.

Being the youngest child she became the center of the group of children and her cheery ways brightened the lives of the whole family. Later she won her way fully into the hearts of those who became members of the family by marriage to her brothers and sisters.

When she was 23 years of age she was married to Dr. W. E. Ireland. For five years they resided in Leesburg and then moved to Washington C. H., where they have ever since resided.

To them four children were born: Augusta (Mrs. Roy Dove) of Shelbyville, Ill., Horace Ireland, of Washington C. H., O., Grace, whose short life here lasted only 10 months, and Nellie (Mrs. Douglas Shoaff) of Shelyville, Ill.

She was both aunt and mother to Dr. Michael Creamer, who, when only five years of age, came to be a member of this happy home. With a true devotion she gave herself to his training and was a great stay and inspiration to him through his youth and later young manhood. A short time ago he came across the continent with his family and spent precious days in this home at the side of her whom he adored.

Something of his heart feeling at this time is expressed in the telegram from Los Angeles received by Dr. Ireland two days ago in which Dr. Creamer said, "She made aunt a more sacred word than mother. *** May her memory help us to be better men and women."

Her grand-children are: Virginia,

Robert, Barbara Dove and Augusta Dove Jr., Wm. E. Ireland Jr., and James W. Ireland, Florence Eleanor Shoaff, and of course, Dr. Creamer's children, Lida Florence and Michael Jr.

Mrs. Ireland was a beautiful woman—physically, socially, mentally, and spiritually.

There was a peculiar loveableness in her, and as she grew older it did not fade away and fail her.

She has fought a losing battle with disease throughout the last year.

Fortunately there has not been intense physical suffering. The last four weeks have been long to her because of the weariness of her body at the close of the long strain.

It was hard for her to give up the full, active, life to which she was accustomed, but friends and loved ones have brightened the burden as much as possible.

She has wanted for nothing that was possible to secure for her. Her children from a distance were here repeatedly, ministering to her, husband and son were constantly near Mrs. Carr, sister-in-law, and Mrs. "Thad" Saxton, niece and almost sister, and Miss Ruth Carr, niece, have been with her almost day and night through much of this long battle, with tender hands and hearts ministering to her most graciously.

Before her marriage she was a member of the Grassy Point Church of Christ. After her marriage, she went with Dr. Ireland and has ever since been a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, first at Leesburg and then here.

She has been active in the church. A loyal member of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, one of the organizers of the local Woman's Home Missionary Society of which she was president for about 19 years in all.

She was president of the Dorcas Society, which had much to do with raising funds toward the building and furnishing of the present Grace Church building. She was the last president of the Ladies' Aid Society (successor to the Dorcas Society) and before her sickness was planning to lead in finishing the obligation for some of the church furnishing of recent years, all of which now, with the church debt and centenary funds, just recently has been provided for.

She was a regular attendant at the church's mid-week service and, took delight in song and prayer and otherwise making her self count for helpfulness there as in other church services.

She was a regular reader of the Western Christian Advocate. Her Bible was precious to her. The 23rd Psalm was perhaps her favorite Bible chapter. Her home and her church were the two institutions that came first with her, and to them she gave the full measure of her devotion.

She was a true hearted wife. She was interested in the success of her husband in his profession—helping, encouraging and brightening his life, as he went forth to his work and when he came back to the precious place that was a real home to him.

In whatever success he has had she has been right at the wheel, and helped in a wonderful degree. Even in sickness, her first thought was for his comfort.

She did much for him. He did much for her. Together they have journeyed with a wonderful union of devotion and love that has meant everything to them both.

She appreciated her friends, wanted them to come to see her, wanted to talk with them even when it was too much for her strength. She had friends by the hundreds.

Flowers came day after day through this long year. Many at Easter time from loving friends and these flowers that are here in such profusion, we must believe, she sees to today.

What a wealth she must now enjoy in that land which we do not know ever thing about, but which is that home of beauty, which Jesus went to prepare!

She loved music. She sang sweet lullaby songs as she rocked her babies; she sang at her work; she sang in the church; and had music in her heart as she went elsewhere. She liked the fine hymns of Christianity. Her children learned many of the finest because mother kept singing them throughout their childhood days.

How fine it is to think that she now can know the joy of hearing and joining with the angelic choir which only those who have passed over may know.

Only her children themselves know the richness of this mother's love to them.

She had a great memory for childhood stories, and as children and grand children have grown up they have reveled in the childhood stories that came from her lips at evening time, and when they were sick and perhaps fretful and cross, to drive the clouds away.

We may not go into the close intimacy of the home circle of this husband and these children. They evidently were on her mind always; and lift."

Pinned to a page in one of her Bibles is another clipping which we read with tears and joy as expressive of the way doubtless in which she herself approached death. It reads as follows:

"If I were told that I must die tomorrow,

That the last sun which sinks should bear me past all fear and sorrow.

From anyone, all the short journey through,

What should I do?"

"I do not thing that I should shrink or falter.

But just go on,

Doing my work—nor seek to change or alter

Aught that is gone,

But rise and move and love and smile and pray

For one more day."

"And lying down at night for one more sleeping

Say in that ear

Which hearkens ever 'Lord, within thy keeping'

How should I fear?

And when tomorrow brings

Thee nearer still,

Do thou thy will."

"I might not sleep for awe, but peaceful, tender,

My soul would lie

All the night long; and when the morning splendor

Flushed o'er the sky

I think that I could smile and could calmly say:

"It is His day!"

"So live that, when thy summons comes to join

The innumerable caravan, which moves

To that mysterious realm where each shall take

His chamber in the silent halls of death,

Thou go not like the quarry slave at night

Scourged to his dungeon; but sustained and soothed

By an unfaltering trust, approach thy grave

Like one who wraps the drapery of his couch

About him and lies down to pleasant dreams."

—Wm. Cullen Bryant.

One of the choice clippings she had laid aside and which is in accord with her interest in others, so persistently manifested in her treatment not only of her own but of her neighbors, neighbors' children and others generally reads as follows:

"I would be friend of all—the poor

the friendless;

would be giving and forget the gift;

would be humble for I know my weakness;

BRITISH 'FESSORS
STILL FLOG 'EM

London, July 1.—(By Mail)—The old custom of flogging students is still in vogue in British colleges, whose students are as old as average American college men. The custom is most followed in the higher class institutions, so that to have been flogged at school or college is said to be the mark of an aristocrat.

At Cheltenham college the students hazed Barnwell, the former tender of the college baths because he had deserted the baths, for higher wages in an aircraft factory. They bombarded Barnwell's house with bricks.

Thereupon Barnwell's workmates with several hundred of the ponfance marched to the college and told their story to the principal, Archdeacon Waterfield. It was agreed that the students should pay damages and be flogged by the Archdeacon. This was satisfactory to all concerned, including the students.

Because of the number to undergo castigation, lots were drawn so that one out of ten of the student body should get the whip. This also was satisfactory to the students. But this sporting spirit so impressed the bathkeeper faction that they proposed that both sides shake hands and call it off, which was done with mutual regrets and compliments.

Chicago, August 6.—Further spread of the railway shopmen's strike was reported last night by union officials, who declared some 15,000 additional workers in the middle west went out and that a strike of 10,000 men on the Norfolk & Western had been set for Wednesday.

While these were the chief developments in the fifth day of the strike, it was also announced that the bars had been let down for the boiler makers to join the strike.

Birthstone for August is Sardonyx. Hettessheimer, Jeweler.

COLUMBUS PASTORS AFTER "AUTOCRACY" IN THE M. E. CHURCH

Radical changes are being sought in the government of the Methodist Episcopal Church by Columbus ministers and prominent laymen who believe that the time has come when someone else besides the Bishop alone should have a voice in placing ministers at each yearly conference.

Regarding the changes sought, a Columbus dispatch says:

"Three important memorials, intended to prevent autocracy in the government of the Methodist Episcopal Church, were discussed and referred to the Ohio Methodist Conference at a meeting of ministers from Columbus and vicinity at Central M. E. church.

"The first memorial which would give district superintendents the power to vote on the appointment of ministers would be one of the most radical changes ever made in the church.

"The third resolution provides for the recall of bishops should their services prove unsatisfactory.

The memorials were presented to the meeting by Dr. B. E. Evans of

Franklin Park M. E. Church, who is a member of the committee appointed to frame them for presentation. Other members of the committee are Dr. J. C. Arbuckle, of the Children's Home and Dr. T. H.

Campbell, superintendent of the Columbus district.

Dr. E. Stafford of Delaware pre-ssided. Further discussion of the proposed changes will be had at a meeting to be held at Central

Church next Monday and at an all-day session a week from Monday.

The Ohio Conference meets in Columbus September 10."

"The first memorial which would power to vote on the appointment of ministers would be one of the most radical changes ever made in the church.
